Dear _____,

I wanted to let you know how much I truly love and care about you. You mean the world to me, and I cherish every moment we are together. While I love every aspect of our relationship the way it is, there is something burning inside of me which I've wanted to tell you for the longest time. I didn't know how to bring it up to you in person, so I wrote this letter to tell you what I cannot.

We have a passionate sex life, and I always enjoy every moment we make love, but I want to tell you about a desire I have had for as long as I can remember. I have always fantasized about a chastity fetish. It is hard for me to bring it up even here, but I have always had the desire to be locked in chastity, with you holding the key. I know it sounds like a strange request, but I hope you will have an open mind with it, and be willing, even eventually excited, about helping me fulfill this fantasy of mine.

It can be a very fun addition to our lives, where you can lock me up, and only you can decide when I come out. We can start off slow, playing with it on and off, and see where it takes us from there. In time, I'm sure we can both find much joy and excitement with this fantasy.

I would love to try this, but only if you are on board with me, as this fantasy would not be complete without you. Please, take some time to consider it, and let me know what you think. I may be a bit nervous about answering questions, but I want you to be comfortable with the idea too.

Yours Truly,
